

Preferred Woodcutting Areas on the Sandpoint Ranger District

SAGLE Area

Grouse Mountain Sagle 1051: This preferred fuelwood area is located approximately 4.5 miles east of Sagle, Idaho off of Sagle Road. Road 1051 will be open to the public for wood gathering from Friday July 8, through Monday September 5.

To access this area, travel US-95 to Sagle Road, then east on Sagle Road approximately 4.5 miles to Road 1051. Turn right and go approximately 1 mile across private ownership to the beginning of Forest Service land.

Ponderosa Terrace: This preferred fuelwood area is located approximately 7 miles east of Sagle, Idaho off of Talache Road. Ponderosa Terrace Road will be open to the public for wood gathering from Friday July 8, through Monday September 5.

To access this area, travel US-95 to Sagle Road, then east on Sagle Road approximately 1.5 miles to Talache Road. Turn right onto Talache Road and go approximately 6 miles to Ponderosa Terrace Estates Road. Turn left onto Ponderosa Terrace Estates Road. Travel 0.6 miles to the top of the hill. The Forest Service access road will be on the right.

Cocolalla; Road 630B & 630B1: This preferred fuelwood area is located approximately 5 miles south of Sagle, Idaho off of Blacktail Road. The 630B & 630B1 roads will be open to the public for wood gathering from Friday July 8, through Monday September 5.

To access this area, travel US-95 to Blacktail Road, then east on Blacktail Road approximately 1.8 miles to Road 630. Turn left onto Road 630 and go approximately 2 miles to Road 630B. Turn left onto Road 630B.

278 SOUTH

Road 278A: This preferred fuelwood area is located approximately 10 miles east of Athol, Idaho. Road 278A will be open to the public for wood gathering from Friday July 8, through Monday September 5.

To access this area, travel US-95 to Bunco Road. Travel east on Bunco Road for 6.5 miles to Road 332. Go approximately 2 miles across private and Forest Service ownership and another 4 miles through Forest Service land to Road 278. Turn left onto Road 278 and travel 1.5 miles. Turn left onto Road 278A.

Road 278E: This preferred fuelwood area is located approximately 13 miles east of Athol, Idaho. Road 278E will be open to the public for wood gathering from Friday July 8, through Monday September 5.

To access this area, travel US-95 to Bunco Road. Travel east on Bunco Road for 6.5 miles Road 332. Go approximately 2 miles across private and Forest Service ownership and another 4 miles through Forest Service land to Road 278. Turn left onto Road 278 and travel 5 miles. Turn left onto Road 278E.

CLARK FORK

Road 1021A: This preferred fuelwood area is located on the east side of the district in the Twin Creek area. Road 1021A will be open to the public for wood gathering from Friday July 8, through Monday September 5.

To access this area, travel State Highway 200 to Clark Fork, Idaho. Turn south onto Stephen Street, cross the BNSF railroad tracks and then turn left onto River Road. Follow River Road for approximately 5 miles, then turn right onto Road 277, Twin Creek Road. Continue on Twin Creek Road for 2 miles through private ownership and turn right Road 1021, Ruen Road. Travel 5 miles on Road 1021. Turn right onto Road 1021A.

Road 1021F: This preferred fuelwood area is located on the east side of the district in the Twin Creek area. Road 1021F will be open to the public for wood gathering from Friday July 8, through Monday September 5.

To access this area, travel State Highway 200 to Clark Fork, Idaho. Turn south onto Stephen Street, cross the BNSF railroad tracks and then turn left onto River Road. Follow River Road for approximately 5 miles, then turn right onto Road 277, Twin Creek Road. Continue on Twin Creek Road for 2 miles through private ownership and turn right Road 1021, Ruen Road. Travel 6 miles on Road 1021. Turn left onto Road 1021F.

Road 203A: This preferred fuelwood area is located on the east side of the district in the Dry Creek area. Road 203A will be open to the public for wood gathering from Friday July 8, through Monday September 5.

To access this area, travel State Highway 200 to Clark Fork, Idaho. Turn south onto Stephen Street, cross the BNSF railroad tracks and then turn left onto River Road. Follow River Road for approximately 6.5 miles, then turn right onto Road 203, Dry Creek Road. Continue on Dry Creek Road for 2 miles through private ownership and another three miles through Forest Service land. Turn left onto Road 203A.

Road 203B and 203D: This preferred fuelwood area is located on the east side of the district in the Dry Creek area. Road 203B and 203D will be open to the public for wood gathering from Friday July 8, through Monday September 5.

To access this area, travel State Highway 200 to Clark Fork, Idaho. Turn south onto Stephen Street, cross the BNSF railroad tracks and then turn left onto River Road. Follow River Road for approximately 5 miles, then turn right onto Road 203, Dry Creek Road. Continue on Dry Creek Road for 2 miles through private ownership and another three miles through Forest Service land. Turn right onto Road 203B and 203D.

Road 278F: This preferred fuelwood area is located on the east side of the district in the Johnson Creek area. Road 278F will be open to the public for wood gathering from Friday July 8, through Monday September 5.

To access this area, travel State Highway 200 to Clark Fork, Idaho. Turn south onto Stephen Street, cross the BNSF railroad tracks and then turn left onto River Road. Follow River Road across the Clark Fork River, then turn right onto Johnson Creek Road. Continue on the Johnson Creek Road for three miles through private ownership and another five miles through Forest Service land. Road 278F will be on your left.